*If selecting other than the lowest-priced supplier, write your justification here:

Paradise Point was selected because it provides a fully integrated venue with sufficient capacity for plenary, breakout, and exhibit functions in a single location, reducing logistical complexity and operational risk. Although room rates are higher, waived resort fees, included amenities, discounted AV and F&B, and bundled meeting space significantly offset the cost difference. The venue also better supports continuous scientific interaction and attendee engagement, which is central to the conference objectives.

III. PRICE REASONABLENESS: (Complete only if Sole Source, Small Business/DVBE, Professional/Personal Services is checked in Section I.) This section is required by the CA Public Contract Code 10508 and FAR provision Subpart 15.4.

- How did you determine this is a fair and reasonable price? Base price reasonableness on comparable/similar quotes or compare the price to historical prices paid for the same or similar items. For the Small Business option, provide a brief narrative of the price comparison, and attach a copy of the comparison quote from another certified small business/DVBE.

The price was evaluated based on total program cost and bundled value rather than nominal room rate alone. While the base room rate is $249 per night, the agreement includes significant cost offsets and included services that reduce the effective total cost, including a waived resort fee valued at $46 per room per night, complimentary meeting space contingent on the food and beverage minimum, a 20% discount on audiovisual services, a 10% discount on food and beverage, reduced parking rates, and multiple included amenities. When these offsets are incorporated, the effective cost is competitive with or lower than alternative venues that may offer lower base rates but require separate charges for meeting space, audiovisual services, and amenities.

In addition, the contract bundles lodging, meeting space, and conference infrastructure into a single integrated agreement, which reduces the need for external vendors and associated costs. The food and beverage minimum is expected to be met comfortably through planned program elements such as the reception and special dinner. While the minimum is higher at Paradise Point Resort, this reflects the scale of included services and should not be considered a determining factor in the overall cost evaluation, as it aligns with anticipated event needs rather than representing an incremental expense.

- 2) ☐ (Complete only for Federal grant and cooperative agreement orders  $\geq$  \$250,000) Section III.1) above must be filled out, regardless of how the purchase was sourced (CFR §200.324(a)), and profit negotiation must be included in your narrative if such purchase has no price competition (CFR § 200.324(b)).
- 3) ☐ (Complete only for sole-sourced Federal non-commercial contract orders  $\geq$  \$2M.) FAR subsection 15.403-4 requires Suppliers to submit certified cost or pricing data (TINA). Check box if the 'UC Certified Cost or Pricing Data for Federal Contract Purchases' form (located on UCOP website) is attached.

Detail the unique circumstances and/or specifications that make this the only supplier capable of meeting your requirement and why other suppliers were not selected (i.e. specifications that didn't meet performance requirements) and include documentation.
NOTE: Pre-work with the selected supplier to customize the equipment, thereby excluding competition, is not an allowable justification. Price and brand names are not allowable justifications. For Federal funds only, geographical preferences are not an allowable justification.

Paradise Point is the best qualified venue among those evaluated, after evaluating multiple comparable venues, that satisfies the full set of technical and operational requirements for the conference. The event requires a plenary room accommodating approximately 900 participants (700 are planned), multiple concurrent breakout rooms, dedicated exhibit space, integrated lodging, and co located meeting and accommodation infrastructure. Paradise Point uniquely provides a fully integrated resort layout in which plenary, breakouts, exhibits, meals, and lodging are co located within a single walkable venue. Alternative venues either require distributed facilities across multiple buildings, lack sufficient contiguous meeting space, or require substantial reconfiguration or external rentals, which introduces additional logistical complexity, increases operational risk, and raises total cost. The selected venue also reduces transportation requirements between lodging and sessions, minimizes coordination complexity across vendors, and lowers the risk of schedule disruption due to spatial fragmentation. In addition, the contained resort environment enhances attendee interaction and scientific exchange by supporting continuous engagement outside formal sessions. These combined functional and operational constraints limit viable alternatives, making Paradise Point the only supplier capable of meeting the full specification.

V. PROFESSIONAL OR PERSONAL SERVICES (Complete only for non-Federal Funds): Highly specialized functions, typically of a technical nature or unique ability, performed by a supplier that is distinctly qualified to render the services. Services are of a nature that the University would consider the supplier's experience, qualifications and skills to be more important than comparative cost when selecting a supplier. Define the unique qualifications that the selected supplier will provide.
